

TGFA TOURNAMENT RULE REQUIREMENTS

Introduction: The Tasmanian Game Fishing Association (TGFA) oversees the sport of game fishing in Tasmanian waters conducted by five (5) Clubs. The five (5) Clubs, The St. Helens Game Fishing Club (SHGFC), The Tuna Club of Tasmania (TCT), The Game Fishing Club of Northern Tasmania (GFCNT), The Southern Gamefish Club (SGC) and the Sports Fishing Club of Tasmania (SFCT), each conduct one or more major tournaments, either solely or as a joint effort with other clubs. As these tournaments grow in stature, and with new tournaments likely to be planned, there is a need for the standardisation of rules and entry conditions for tournaments. The “sanctioning” of tournaments allows each entrant to a tournament to see that the tournament is authorised by the TGFA and is conducted under the consistent rules and ethics as set down by the Game Fishing Association of Australia (GFAA) and the TGFA.

Tournament Guidelines:

1. Where possible, all sanctioned tournaments should be at least a fortnight apart and incorporated into a TGFA calendar of events that is developed in a consultative manner by the TGFA as early as possible each year after the AGM.
2. TGFA clubs have traditionally provided and supported prize structures that reward anglers or teams of anglers for their sporting efforts. This is within a culture fostered on respect and conservation of fisheries. Prizes are provided with support of business that support the sport of recreational game fishing. We compete under an understanding and within a culture of respect and privilege in fisheries like the conservation dependant Southern Bluefin Tuna fishery. Large cash prizes are likely to draw criticism from observers of the sport and question our ethical motivations. Generally large cash prizes are not supported for sanctioned tournaments. Clubs wishing to offer cash prizes should be prepared to prosecute a case for support from the TGFA.
3. Blue Sharks are a poor-quality eating fish. The TGFA supports clubs hosting sanctioned tournament where Blue Sharks are eligible for Tag and Release only.

Tournament Requirements:

1. All Tournaments will be open to full financial members of game fishing clubs affiliated with the Game Fishing Association of Australia (GFAA).
